 Selanjutnya Akinator is a free online guessing game where the main character is trying to read your thoughts. Come and face the mighty guessing powers of the ingenious Akinator. The powerful, magical being that can deduce almost any character living or dead by simply asking you 20 questions. Think you can challenge him online for free? How does Akinator work? Try thinking of a specific person, real or fictional, and all their attributes. Through a seemingly random list of questions covering some strange and unique aspects, the Akinator will slowly narrow down the possibilities of who it could be. So be sure to know as much about the person in question as you can. It can be their physical features. Like their hair colour, body shape, age or gender. You may also have to answer questions about their career, the work they're known for or even their political opinions. Even if you don't know the answer to every single question, there is a good chance that your secretly thought up character will be guessed by Akinator. It's not easy to answer the 20 questions online and to win against Akinator the web genie. The Akinator is based on a continually improving algorithm that feeds on the information its users give it. Every character that isn't correctly guessed, can be added to the database alongside with the answers given prior. By doing so the genie's knowledge grows and their ability to distinguish between various collection of attributes and features until only one name remains expands. Imagine cross-referencing an enormous library of characters, all of which are listed with a number of specific attributes that can be verified by the person playing the game. As you move from answering one question to the next, the list of potential names is narrowed down until the Akinator knows exactly what thoughts are in your head as you play. It sounds creepy, or even mystical, but it is really just a way of solving one of the oldest games with the help of modern technology. It's more than just 20 questions, it's a way to pit your imagination and creativity against the powers of a digital genie. What will it take to outsmart the genie? An obscure children's book character? Maybe the protagonist of a Japanese cult film? Or the colourful heroes of your favourite videogame series? Or will you try to outsmart him by picking yourself? Somebody from your family? The Akinator knows all and sees all. Sounds unbelievable? Why don't you try it out right now, and see just how predictable you really are.  Jul 15, 2022 Version 8.18 This is a wonderful app. Though I don't know why, but I was one of the first people to guess a character before anyone else did guess the character. I got an Aki Award, a gold one... This is confusing, but I don't mind. On to the real reason. First times I played this, the game started to get weird. I didn't know why! Whenever I turn kids mode on, when they guess the show wrong and I go to the list they show actors from movies. But when I turned kids mode off they showed what I was thinking. Though actors, wrestlers?? On kids mode?? I just don't know anymore. Plus questions like, is your character dead? Married? Im not making you guys sad it has amazing ai that guesses everything @@@ And on to the good things: This game has special AI, guessed everything in the world. It's amazing, TOTALLY recommend it. The best I ever saw, you won't regret downloading it! If you want an app that surprises you, download this app. Characters, Objects, Shows, you name it, he guesses it. I'm also not trying to cause harm or hurt other people's feelings about their opinion on the game. This is a long review and you probably read fast @ though if you fix the kids mode problem that would be helpful! Thanks for the amazing game! I wish I could put a millionth star instead of a 5th star. I Come to think they would use a search engine for the so called "genie" to guess what you're thinking. I originally assumed that it would be looked up piece by piece and it would go by the top matches. I guess not. There's been a couple times where the game would have to take a minute until the next question to be asked, almost as if it was seriously thinking as a person would. And plus... He doesn't always guess right! If you're going for something really specific it might take a couple tries and bring up other guesses, some of which could be completely out of the way of what you could be thinking. The questions get more specific as they are asked. Even better, questions and guesses can be filtered out to parent lock which pops up as you're playing. It asks for no personal information and seems to be directly from pure human knowledge. You can even pick a category of things to describe, that being real and fiction animals or characters in any form of show or movie you can find them in! There are also rewards if the genie guesses right the first time and you can customize his appearance as well. The game is surprisingly simple considering how much it holds. I totally recommend this!!!!!! [0][0][0] OMG!! I recommend this app for you! He literally guesses everything. The only thing he had not guessed in the past 20 minutes was a movie called Clue! I also recommend this app! You will not regret it at all! I wanted this app for fun, thinking it was not legit. So, I got the game. When I went into the game, the Home Screen looked so legit. But, of course I thought it was not. So I noticed you can change the categories and I chose Animal. He guessed it right but I figured it was just a coincidence. I then did a person. He guessed it right! I then noticed it might be legit. I kept on playing for about 10 minutes. He finally got it wrong a bunch of times and I had to tell it what it was. Anyways, I then kept on doing it for another 10 to 15 minutes and he kept getting it! I have done all the categories now. You see, this is my first day playing it so I am probably going to make another Review of some changes or something like that. You see, this game isn't just legit, cool, and challenging. It is also fun! You have to be creative too in order for him to not guess it. Anyways, I totally recommend this app to you all! Trust me, you won't regret it! Enjoy it!
